AND GOD SAYS . . .

To tell you the truth, I get kind of tired hearing evolution's postulates spoken as if they are undeniable proven facts. You know what I'm talking about. Things like the dinosaurs lived millions of years ago. That it takes millions of years to make oil so that oil is considered a non- renewable energy source. I don't think I need say anything more. You know what I am talking about.

The thing is, I believe it takes more faith to believe in evolution than it does to believe in God. I mean, just think about it. Darwin never imagined that living organisms were so complex. He thought that a single cell was just a simple glob of living matter. But was he ever wrong. But we know better today, yet evolution is still taught. Why? Because to admit any crack in evolution is to have to admit their might have to be a God after all and that is unacceptable.

Actually, evolution is as much of a religion as Christianity. It worships man's reason as the final authority. In other words, we make ourselves the final authority (like we have the authority to do that). And if two people disagree, how do we settle our differences? The one who can yell the loudest or who can intimidate the most or the one who is the biggest or has the biggest hammer and demands his own way and anybody who disagrees needs to be eliminated, imprisoned, reprogrammed, and cancelled. And that, people, is our culture today.

Do you see it? Romans 1:21-23, in just two sentences, describes this process to a "T." The people forget about God and therefore neither give Him glory in and through their lives—that is they no longer consider Him to be relevant to their lives—nor do they recognize His involvement in their lives so they do not give thanks to Him.

And what is the result of this? Their thinking becomes futile, (i.e., foolish, meaningless, silly—that is they become evolutionists for one thing) and their hearts are darkened (i.e., their conscience is seared so that they do not know right from wrong—that is, they become immoral and don't even know it). I could say so much more, but you get the point.

There is only one answer for us to turn this around and that is to turn back to the worship of the one true God, the God and Father or our Lord Jesus Christ. There is no other answer!
