 BARN OWL

FALLACIES IN SCIENCE PART TWO

This is the second part of our discussion about fallacies in science. In the last year, BARN OWL published three articles about FALLACIES IN LOGIC and how to spot twisted logic in a political argument. You can find them at barnowl57.substack.com.

With uneducated fools like Robert Kennedy Jr taking apart the CDC and NIH, and making up misleading arguments about health, vaccines and prevention, it is also helpful to understand some common fallacies and how they are being used to confuse people. Kristen Panthagani MD PhD wrote in You Can Know Things about how these fallacies are used to twist scientific facts and evidence.

- THE POST HOC FALLACY assumes that if one event happens before another, the first event must have caused the second. But just because two events happen in order does not mean they are connected. For example, if a person gets sick after a medical procedure or vaccination, that does not mean the treatment caused the illness. Many other things may be involved. It takes a lot of careful research to find what really caused an event.
- THE ANECDOTAL FALLACY happens when people use their own personal experience to make broad conclusions. Personal experiences are important, but they only show one experience or point of view. One person’s experience is not enough evidence to prove something is always true.
- THE APPEAL TO EMOTION FALLACY uses strong emotions to persuade people and make them feel fear, anger, or sadness instead of using facts and evidence. Emotions are not wrong and help you make decisions. But when emotions are used in place of evidence, or used to distract people from weak arguments, they make it harder to think clearly.
- THE APPEAL TO AUTHORITY FALLACY assumes that authority figures (experts) are always right. In science, what matters is the quality of the data and analysis—not who is making the claim. Even people with MDs and PhDs must provide data to back up their claims. Their title or credentials alone are not enough to prove they are correct.
- THE MOVING THE GOALPOST FALLACY happens when someone keeps changing their standards of proof. When one claim is shown to be wrong, they come up with a new reason why their belief is true. As a result, no amount of evidence is ever “enough” to prove they are wrong.

Be aware of these tricks. Think about the evidence and how an argument is being made when you hear arguments against science and health.

Clark County Humane Society's Pet of the Week

"BOOMER"

Boomer is the CCHS Pet of the Week!

Boomer is an adorable 11-week old neutered male kitten. With his handsome long-haired white and gray coat, he is just the definition of cuteness! Boomer is a playful and energetic kitten who lives life to the fullest. He loves toys, games, and anything that gives him a chance to burn off some kitten energy. Boomer's fun-loving personality makes him a joy to be around. He's looking for a forever family that will appreciate his adventurous spirit and loving nature. Boomer needs to be adopted with his sister Sparkler, who is a gorgeous short-haired Calico. They are buddies and playmates and would like to stay together. That works out well, as we have a 2-for-1 adoption special on cats and kittens at CCHS. That means you can adopt them both for one adoption fee of just $50! You can submit your adoption application for Boomer and Sparkler on our website: www.cchs-petshelter.org/applying-to-adopt.

During the whole month of July, it's time for "Stars, Stripes and Shelter Pets" at CCHS! It's an adoption promotion for our adult dogs. Adoption fees will be just $50 on select adult dogs. You will also get a special handmade surprise to take home, plus you can Spin the Wheel for an extra bonus gift! You can learn more on our website: <https://www.cchs-petshelter.org>. It's the perfect opportunity to add a wonderful new dog to your family, because every pet deserves the freedom to be loved!

AND GOD SAYS...

Take heed to yourselves. If your brother sins against you ... and if he repents, forgive him. (Luke 17:3).

For the full context of this Scripture on forgiveness, you need to read verses 1 - 10 of Luke, chapter 17. I would like to highlight some of the truths revealed in these verses.

1. THE ISSUE CLARIFIED: The truth is, everyone of us will be offended, wronged, hurt, betrayed, disappointed, if we live long enough to develop expectations for our treatment by others. Also, it is not something that only happens rarely but regularly. So every one of us need to to how to deal with these offenses and God has told us exactly how we are to do that.
2. GOD'S REMEDY: Our creator and designer has given his unailing plan to overcome these offenses so that we can be free from the bondage, trouble, bitterness, and loss of joy in our own lives if they are left unresolved. We are to forgive them.
3. ISSUE CONFUSED: The disciples response was to ask Jesus to "increase their faith" (vs. 5).
4. ISSUE CLARIFIED: Jesus then went on to teach them that they didn't need more faith, They already had enough faith. Now they just needed to obey. They just needed to humble themselves and grant the forgiveness needed , no matter how they felt about it (verses 6-10).

Forgiveness is not granted after God answers our prayer to correct the one who offended us or to make them pay for their insensitivity to us, but to forgive them before anything is reconciled, believing God will take care of everything in his time and his way. That's what mustard seed faith is, just believing God.

In the next "God says" column I would like to address how to completely forgive so that we can be free, even from those angry thoughts that keep popping up in our minds even after we forgive, not because we felt like it, but we chose to in obedience to Christ based on our faith in Christ.
